Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Night of the Kings: A Dramatic Poem Carmita, a Mexican girl, has recently returned from school in the United States, imbued with American ideas of right and wrong. Pedro, a Mexican youth who has been in love with her for some years, has turned bandit in her absence to secure money enough to ask her to become his wife. He calls at her father s barber shop and, finding her alone, pleads his suit; she upbraids him for his wickedness, and he tells her it was for love of her that he became a thief and a murderer. He discovers that she loves one Frank Carter. He threatens Carter s life; she laughs at him derisively. Mad with anger and to prove himself the better man, he shows her a roll of money taken from Carter that day - the pay roll, in fact, which Carter may be accused of stealing. By stratagem she obtains his Bowie knife and revolver, and compels him to give up the stolen money, saving her sweetheart s honor...
