Dog Ear Publishing, LLC. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 620 pages. Dimensions: 9.0in. x 6.0in. x 1.3in. Ground fire from insurgent forces in Iraq brings down a U. S. helicopter carrying an inspection team. To tackle the effects of insurgent forces, the U. S. government decides to jumpstart a project to make effective use of a new stealth technology. They award a contract to a defense consortium to develop a new defensive technology. The project lasts eighteen months and employs the latest developments in nanotechnology, but instead of using it as a defensive system, they use the device for a strategic operation - destroying a nuclear weapons facility, assisted via a covert operation by a foreign intelligence agency. However, the facility produces two weapons, and each target one of two metropolitan areas in the Middle East. A U. S. strike force equipped with the new device must prevent a possible nuclear war from engulfing the region. In order to be successful, intervention by the U. S. not only requires trust, but also cooperation with their principal adversary. John Barron is a former Software Engineering professional, and since 2007 has spent most of the past two years writing a novel-the first of...
